my13H"German Syrup"A Throat
and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it. @

Election Day in Greece.

Election day is an exciting one in Greece. The last one was especially so in Athens. The people were to vote for members of parliament. The election occurs every four years. For a week previous to the polling all the men and boys were parading the streets, headed by a band. The Greeks are blessed with most powerful lungs, and their shouts of "Viva!" fairly drowned the braying of the donkeys. The interest was so intense that the young children shared it,
and an American lady, passing a "mite
of a boy" on the street, who was escorting a little girl home from school, gallantly carrying her books, heard him
ask her if she had a vote!

The voting takes place in the churches
on Sunday, consequently the customary service is dispensed with. In the church to which an American gentleman succeeded in finding access there were ranged round the church forty-two boxes, that being the number of the candidates.

These boxes were something the shape
of a tea box, one half painted white,
with "Yes" on it, and the other half black, with "No" on it.

Tin tubes projected from the front outward. Looking through these tubes one could see that the boxes were divided into two compartments. Beside each box stood a representative of the candidate, and over the box appeared the candidate's picture. Each voter, as he entered the church, had his name and address registered, and a check given him. The above mentioned representative then gave the voter a bullet, or vote, made of lead.

Formerly the dishonest voter would slip another bullet up his coat sleeve,
and as he raised his arm to the tube the bullet would roll down, and two votes
instead of one be cast; but the representative now watches to prevent cheating. Negative votes as well as affirmative must also be cast; that is, if a voter objects to a candidate, he must cast a negative bullet. The voter, of course, casts one vote at each box, or forty-two in all.—Cor. Youth's Companion.

The Chinaman's Purchase.

The Chinese are not supposed to have much talent or liking for humor, but a little story related by the author of "Three Years in Western China" shows that they are not altogether deficient in that respect:

Several of my followers were opium smokers, and one of my bearers had contracted a great craving for the drug. He was somewhat disreputable in appearance, but a willing worker. His baggage consisted of the clothes on his back and a small bundle containing his opium pipe and the necessary paraphernalia for smoking.

On leaving a certain village I noticed that the bundle had assumed larger dimensions, but my speculations as to its contents proved to be wide of the mark.

A few miles to the west of Yang-lin a halt was called for rest, and the cakes on the roadside stall were quickly bought and devoured. The opium smoker, meanwhile, sat apart on the edge of the stone road.

"How is it that you are all eating and drinking," said he to one of his comrades,
"and I haven't a single cash to follow your example?"

The other man put his thumb to his mouth, and pretending to inhale, pronounced the single word, "Opium," at which the smoker smiled and was silent.

On the following day we were suddenly overtaken by a sharp rain storm,
and when the other bearers were searching for shelter the smoker solemnly produced his bundle, gravely undid the cover, and proceeded to unfold and put on a first-class waterproof coat which he had wisely purchased in the village to which we have referred. The astonishment on the other men's faces and the look of triumph in which the smoker indulged were a study.

The First Horse Car.

It was in 1831 that I devised the first street car, or omnibus, as it was then called. This car was composed of an extension to a coach body, with seats lengthwise instead of crosswise. On the outside of the vehicle was printed "Omnibus," in large letters. People would stand and look at this word and wonder what it meant. "Who is Mr. Omnibus?"
many of them would inquire. I had a shop of my own at this time, and there I built the first horse car. It was run for the first time in 1832, from Prince street,
in the Bowery, to Fourteenth street.
This car had three compartments of ten seats each, entrance being had from the sides. On the top there were also three rows of seats, facing back and front, seating thirty persons.—John Stephen son in Ladies' Home Journal

Salvation Army and the Crusades.

It is obvious that if we would find any analogy for the growth and force of this movement of the Salvation Army, we must go back to the enthusiasm evoked by the preaching of the Crusades, to the work of Francis and Dominic in founding the mendicant orders, to the Protestant Reformation, to the preaching of George Fox, or to the growth of Wesleyanism at the close of the last century. Further no attentive student of early church history can fail to see many striking points of analogy between the methods adopted and the results achieved by the Salvation Army and those which astonished and disgusted the pagan world in the rapid success attained by the early missionaries of the Christian church.—

A VIRGINIA CITY STOCK EXCHANGE.

The recent decision of the California courts declaring the purchase of stock on margins by brokers unconstitutional, and making the brokers personally responsible for the amounts paid by customers on margins, will probably result in the opening of a Stock and Exchange Board in Virginia City. In this State the courts decide that the purchase of mining or other stock on a margin is legitimate, and that stock so purchased may be sold under certain restrictions, at the option of the brokers.

It is doubtful if dealings in mining stocks would be carried on as extensively in Virginia City as in San Francisco. Almost every mine on the Comstock is controlled by a San Francisco corporation. These corporations are not even compelled by law to keep an office in Nevada and all their business is transacted in San Francisco. This, like many other things pertaining to corporations, operates against Nevada, and doubtless fears if the Constitution should be revised that mining and other companies would be compelled to keep offices in Nevada, caused the boss-governed Legislature, last Winter, to ignore the will of the people and refuse to call a Constitutional Convention.

Possibly the establishment of a Mining Exchange where the principal mines are situated, might prove so advantageous to operators that stocks would be dealt in more extensively than at present and dealers might insist on having the corporations open offices in Virginia City. As it is now nothing can be learned about the business of corporations, whose property is situated in Nevada, without going to San Francisco, and even the reports of mining superintendents are published in that city before they are known of them where the mines are situated. Nevada, in fact, is treated like a dependency of the Bay city. The millions produced by the mines have been invested there and elsewhere outside of Nevada, but our generous people seem to think all the more of the investors and, under the direction of the bosses, select them over the heads of those who do all in their power to build up the State, for political preferment.

THE MCKINLEY BLUNDER.

Some of our esteemed Republican contemporaries, who lauded the McKinley bill at the time of its passage, and denounced as "free traders, bought with British gold," those who asserted that it was drafted for the benefit of monopolies, are now trying to set themselves right with the people by designating the Act "The McKinley Blunder." It appears, however, that the bill is not so much of a blunder as they now represent it, as it is evidently accomplishing the purpose for which it was designed, that is, enriching a few at the expense of the many. The bill placed raw sugar, which hitherto had been taxed two cents per pound, on the free list, thereby expressing disbelief in the theory that the foreign producer, not the American consumer, paid the tax, but left a tax on refined sugar. This was what the sugar trust wanted, and doubtless contributed liberally to the campaign fund to have it engrafted on the law. The result is a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. on the common stock of the trust, which would be equivalent, at the lowest calculation, to about 25 per cent. per annum on the amount of capital invested in the sugar refineries. The people, however, have to pay about old prices for sugar, and derive little, if any, benefit from the abolition of the tax on the imported article. This was what the opponents of the McKinley blunder predicted. It has not appreciably lowered the price of sugar, though other industries will be taxed to pay a bounty of two cents per pound to Louisiana planters and Vermont sugar makers, all for the benefit of the sugar trust. The bill has not enhanced the value of labor, as wages are lower in the East to-day than when it passed. It has not increased manufactures, in fact it has reduced them, and it has added to the cost of living, especially in the agricultural districts, though, in the language of Mr. Blaine, it has not made a market for another barrel of pork or flour.

The Chloride Belt says: "Nevada may be one of the States next year to fall in line with the People's party. If the press correctly represents public opinion the Republicans of the State don't care a fig for Harrison, while the Democrats are openly hostile to Cleveland."

The denunciation of the Prince of Wales by the English newspapers, has caused a terrible sensation throughout Great Britain, and it is asserted that the revelations made during the baccarat trial, has imperiled the monarchy more than any event which has taken place for years.

A Jewish Banker Expelled From Russia Special to the Journal.

BERLIN, June 11.—A Berlin Associated Press correspondent to-day had a convention with Herr Goldberger, a well known Jewish financier, who was recently expelled from Russia. He went from this city in the interest of a banking house with which he is connected, having been furnished with a special consular pass by the Russian Consul General here. At St. Petersburg M. Vischnigradsky, the Russian Minister of Finance and other persons of high standing, showed the Berlin banker special attention. But this did not prevent the police of St. Petersburg from inscribing upon his passport "The Jew Goldberger is here on toleration and under police supervision."

Herr Goldberger does not understand Russian and thought it was some regular police annotation. He learned differently when he reached Moscow. The "prestaw" called upon him and said he must leave at once. The hotel manager told him a few roubles would fix it all right, but Goldberger declined to pay blackmail and left at once. He did not care to establish a bank in a country where such policemen had the power of levying blackmail. Herr Goldberger described awful scenes of expulsion which he had witnessed at Moscow, during his two days stay. His social standing and high position, he said, were of no avail. None of the accounts so far published tells the whole story. The misery and persecutions are simply indescribable. Contrary to the accepted version, Goldberger says the Czar is well aware of the cruelties practiced, and that he always has been a radical anti-Semite. Goldberger thinks Russia will suffer from commercial disasters which are sure to follow the expulsion of the Jews. Russia, with all her immense agricultural and mineral resources will sooner or later be forced into a condition of absolute bankruptcy.

Cruelty to Children.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—E. P. Alexine, superintendent of a school which occupies the basement in the Greco-Russian church in this city, and his assistant, "Professor" Ligda, were arrested this afternoon on a charge of cruelty to children. Fourteen Esquimaux boys were rescued from the school, and according to statements made by Joseph Levin, a priest of the Russian church, the boys have been victims of extreme neglect and cruelty. The priest states that the boys were induced to come here from Alaska upon the representation that they would become priests, but that in reality they are slaves. He says that the Superintendent has frequently been intoxicated and that he and his assistant have beaten the boys brutally and shut them up in dark cells for days at a time, and given them insufficient food and clothing. They have been taught nothing, and have rarely seen sunlight. Several of the boys declare that Alexine has been guilty of atrocious practices with them. The boys show evidences of ill treatment to which they have been subjected.

Amnesty Refused.

IGLOO, June 11.—The amnesty proposed to the American Minister at Santiago to Balmaceda was not accepted, but the latter offered to entertain a proposition for its arrangement, he indicating its basis. To this the Congressional party refuses to assent. The armed transport Imperial with the torpedo cruisers Lynch and Conde landed a party at Tocopilla yesterday which cut the State telegraph lines and then re-embarked. To-day the ships made a demonstration at Antofagasta similar to the demonstration at Pisagua and Iquique. No damage is reported. The superior speed of these ships enables them to keep clear of the Congressional ships.

Rough Joking Causes Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—John Du Casse, trumpeter of Company A, Fifth U. S. Artillery, died on Aleazra Island to-day from the effects of injuries received, it is stated, from having been pushed over a parapet by Private Patterson while the men were joking. Du Casse fell thirty feet, and his legs and ribs were broken.

The Robert and Minnie Released.

SAN PEDRO, June 11.—The Robert and Minnie was released under thirty-five hundred dollar bonds and sailed yesterday afternoon for Eureka. Captain O'Farrell is under $5,000 bonds. The original crew is still held in the County Jail at Los Angeles unable to get the bonds required. ## Indians Dying of LaGrippe.

ASTORIA, June 11.—Information has been received here from Cook's Inlet, Alaska, that great numbers of Indians are sick with la grippe and dying at an alarming rate. In one week twenty died within a radius of five miles of Cannery. A village a few miles distant from Cannery was depopulated with the exception of two children and no one left to bury the dead.

Murdered and Thrown in a Well.

WINNEPEG, June 11.—A mysterious tragedy has just been unearthed near Marquette Station. James Fajdell left home leaving his sister-in-law and a young Englishman together. He returned last night and found the house vacant. Search was made and the body of his sister-in-law was found in the well. She had been shot. The young Englishman is missing, and no doubt he is the murderer.

World's Fair Appropriation.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11.—The Conference Committee of the Legislature to-day agreed on the appropriation of $800,000 for the exhibit at the World's Fair. The Senate adopted the report and the House will undoubtedly adopt it to-morrow.

An Unsuccessful Search.

CALICO, Cal., June 11.—Work has just been completed in the sixty-foot shaft in the Waterloo mine, sunk to reach the drift where the body of young McGowan was supposed to be, but no trace of him was found.

Correcting the Chautauqua.

John Nichol sends the following to the Truckee Republican: "I see in your paper that Chautauqua folks assert that dead fish do not float on the surface of Lake Tahoe. I know they do. I have myself picked up a dead fish floating on the middle of the lake. It was no decomposed fish either, for it was that fresh that when I got back to camp I let on I had caught it and the boys wanted to cook it for supper until I confessed. It is correct, though, that the bodies of human beings don't float."

WHEN THE OLD TREE WAS YOUNG.

When that old apple tree wuz young,
The world wuz better then than now,
An' life wuz happy an' bright,
When that old tree wuz young.
A thousand acres then I dug,
An' never found a 'tater bug,
When that old tree wuz young.
The world wuz full of fun,
As the sky wuz full of sun,
When that old tree wuz young.
When that old apple tree wuz young,
There wuz no weeds on the wheat,
An' I found them cockles wuz to eat,
When that old tree wuz young.
An' all the girls wore their own hair,
An' never bought it anywhere,
When that old tree wuz young.
Men held kurrant ideas,
Not wicked heresies,
When that old tree wuz young.
When that old apple tree wuz young,
Men never used to lie an' cheat,
An' women all wuz good an' sweet,
When that old tree wuz young.
The years have rusted a regular whirl,
It seems the sunrise of the world,
When that old tree wuz young.
For everything's wuz new,
An' drenched in mornin' dew,
When that old tree wuz young.
When that old apple tree wuz young,
The sun looked down on brighter waves,
An' it a lan' of fower graves,
When that old tree wuz young.
The world wuz better then, my son,
An' better, nobler deeds were done,
When that old tree wuz young.
Now I sit an' wait,
But then I fought with fate
When that old tree wuz young.

The World Enriched.

"The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes."

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. 51¢ six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Invitations are out for the University Commencement ball at the Pavilion tomorrow (Friday) evening. An excellent programme has been prepared and good music will be in attendance.
The raging Reese river, which seldom reaches the Humboldt river, is now running bank full, and the meadows along its banks are well watered, with prospects of a good hay crop, so says the Advocate.
The work of tapping Eagle lake in Lassen county, California, to irrigate a large tract of sagebrush land in Honey Lake Valley, has been started. The enterprise is backed by local and San Francisco capital.
The Board of Trade adopted a resolution of Manager Fulton calling the attention of our fruit growers to the necessity of making a vigorous struggle against the codling moth, woolly aphis and other pests, and to the fact that the State University had issued bulletins describing them and the mode of treating them.
The Austin Advocate says: "The cattlemen of Smoky and Grass Valley and Eureka county are redeering at Dry Creek this week. News from all parts of the range reports cattle in fine condition, and every cow and heifer with a calf, but water being so plentiful the cattle are badly scattered and hard to find.
The residence of Mr. Thomas of the firm of Beebe & Thomas, was burglarized night before last. The thief got away with several dollars in coin, and a number of silk handkerchiefs. The timely arrival of Mr. Thomas brought an end to the further appropriation of property by the burglar, who hastily made his exit through the back window as Thomas entered the front door.
CONVIVIAL KNIGHTS.
A Sumptuous Banquet in Their Castle Hall.
The members of the Grand Lodge and visiting members of the K. of P. were royally entertained last night by Amity Lodge No. 8. The banquet was prepared by the Ladies' Relief Corps, who are noted for their skill in the culinary art, and about a hundred covers were laid. Wit and wine flowed freely and toasts and responses were among the order of exercises.

Mrs. Lizzie A. Miller of Austin has been appointed Deputy Supreme Chief of Pythian Sisters of Nevada, by Ida M. Weaver, Supreme Chief of the world. Mrs. Weaver has made an excellent selection in Mrs. Miller as her representative in Nevada, and any work to be done will receive her best attention.—Austin Advocate.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES.
The Commencement Exercises of the Normal and Liberal Arts Classes.
Yesterday was a gala day with the University students and citizens of Reno generally. The annual commencement of the NORMAL DEPARTMENT
Class of '91 of the State University, Mrs. Emory Principle, took place at the Opera House in the afternoon. Every seat was filled, and the programme, which was quite interesting, was carried out to the letter. The graduates were Mary R. Clark, Otilla Quadri, Mary F. Lane, Maude E. Truscott, Grace V. Ward, Louisa Lewis, Kate F. Kinney, W. C. Hancock, Arda F. Van Duzer.
The exercises, which followed an overture by Frederick & Barlow's orchestra, consisted of a song by the class, orations, essays, piano solo and dramatic movements by the graduates and presentation of diplomas by President Jones.
The graduates were the recipients of elegant bouquets and of lavish but deserved praise from the audience.
THE LIBERAL ARTS CLASS.
Last evening commencement exercises of the first graduates of the Liberal Arts Class of '91 were held. Standing room was scarce and seats at a premium in the Opera House. On the stage were the Regents of the State University, the faculty, Rev. Mr. Holmes, Hon. Francis G. Newlands, the graduates, Fred A. Bristol, Henry C. Cutting and Frank H. Norcross.
Frederick & Barlow's orchestra furnished the music, which was all that could be desired in that line, and our obliging Nashy furnished seats so long as there were any.
Mr. Bristol delivered an oration, subject, "Overtaught," which evinced research and study. Mr. Cutting, who is humorous as well as eloquent, delivered an address on "Teadyism in America," which was true to the letter and worthy of Mark Twain in his best days. Mr. Norcross had for his subject "The Genesis of Socialism," which was scholarly and exhaustive, and one of which the best speakers might feel justly proud.
President S. A. Jones, by virtue of his position, confirmed the degree of Bachelor of Arts on each of the graduates, and presented them with diplomas.
Rev. J. Fred Holmes, by invitation of President Jones, delivered the commencement address. Mr. Holmes is a learned and experienced speaker, and his remarks were appropriate and highly appreciated.
The young B. A.'s were presented with a wheelbarrow load of handsome bouquets, which were wheeled on to the platform by a colored youth improvised for the occasion by some burnt cork artist.
The exercises throughout were interesting and instructive and though the time occupied exceeded two and one-half hours, the audience appeared anxious to have them continued longer and reluctantly left the hall, as the students made it resound with the "University yell."
THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
The Grand Lodge of Nevada in Session.
The Nineteenth Annual Session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Nevada was called to order at 11 o'clock yesterday morning by Grand Chancellor B. F. Carler. The reports of the officers and various committees were received and read. One dollar per capita tax for the ensuing year was levied.
Amity Lodge No. 8, through Representative J. E. Aitken, invited the members of the Grand Lodge and all visiting brothers to meet with them at 8 o'clock, when there was to be work in the Third Rank, after which a banquet was to be spread.
Upon motion the invitation was promptly accepted, and after transacting other business the Lodge adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

ANDY HUBBS TELLS A STORY.
Some Mexican War Reminiscences.
Andrew Hubbs of Rye Patch, in Humboldt county, the owner of a large band of horses, doubtless the lineal descendants of mustangs which he captured in the Mexican war, has some of his reminiscences recorded in the Argonaut as follows:
"Andy," as he was more familiarly called, had served in the Mexican war, a circumstance that valued him a small pension and an apparently inexhaustible store of reminiscences; his anecdotes being distinguished by a symmetry and artist's completeness rarely found allied to such strict veracity.
"Just afore us fellows swiped Cheepool-terpeck," said Andrew, "tho' whole cusaid waggins-train got tied up a quick or arrowyer, ez them Greasers calls it.
"Twaz a likely stream, with mud-banks steeper'n the ruff uv a church an' slicker'n exil gerene.
"We had a reg'lar hog-killing time a snakin' uv them army waggins acrost, an' the way't them Pike county mule-whackers jump't stiff-legged, an' cussed, an' swore, an' fa'r'y blasphemed, wuz a sight fer a blind 'ylum.
"I awow! if that profanity wuzn't that pow'ful, an' meanin', it swinged the grass off'n the ground fer over an' above half a mille, an' if it didn't kill ev'ry gosh blamed fesh an' ruppile in that branch, I don't want a cent; no, sir, not a cent.
"But the peecoolyeres' thing 'bout the hull business wuz that them woods down yendar ars chuck full an' rannin' over with perrits, perryshoots, cuckertooz an' a hull raft uv the guidiest lookin birds a man ever clapped his eyes on to, an' the way't them nat'rally depraved fowls cottoned on to the swar words wuz a caution to snakes.
"Twuz skeerful to hear 'em a whoopin' an' a yowlin' an' a blasphemus. Atwixt them birds an' the divers the mules got that rattled that they never wuz no 'count afterwards.
"A day or two arter we forded, ole Santy Annie 'lowed't he'd play foxy and job the Gringos outen their grub waggins. So he ups an' sends three riggimets to sneak round the tail end uv the army an' corral the rollin stock.
"The Mexikins reached the ford arter dark, an' lowin' that wuz a likely place fer a roost, what does they do but hang up fer the night.
"Ev'rythin wuz quiet ez a pra'r meetin' till long 'bout four 'clock in the mornin', when them little perryshoots an' love birds gunter twittin' profanely, an' putty soon the perrits chipped in an' warbled a few 'ice blasphemies, an' the cuckertooz giv a whoop an' commenced 'knockin' spots outen the Ten Commandments.
"Lord! I reckon ther' wuz never sech a pangeamoneyum ez that afore nor sense.
"The Greasers, 'lowin' that the fightin' Arkansawyers wuz arter 'em, drapped their ciguets an' their weepins an' tuck to the bresh, an' they never stopped runnin' nor looked behindat 'em till they wuz half way't the top uv Mount Popocatepillar.
"They calls that branch now 'El Atroyo de los Cinquenta Mil Diablos,' 'meruin' the crick uv fifty thousan' devils."
"NEVER OBEYED IT."
What a Railroad Official Told Judge Cooley.
The Truckee Republican says the Interstate Commerce Commission went east Wednesday, and were accompanied by Truckee by Traffic Manager Stubbs and Division Superintendent Wright. The two latter, at the dinner table, talked about the Commission, and the Republican reports a fragment of their conversation as follows: Tell you what," said Stubbs, "Cooley [referring to one of the members of the Commission] is a good one. You know that decision of the Commission relating to imported goods. It was a paralyzer on us, and I hardly knew what to do. We couldn't get around it. Well, I was talking to Cooley about that decision one day, and he says: 'That decision was different from what I expected it would be, but I was forced to write it. It had all the law to support it, and we had to give it that way. But—' and he looked at me slyly, 'it didn't hurt you much I guess.' No, said I, we never obeyed it."
